Thank you so much for having us on yesterday! We had three people call to volunteer in 5 minutes of being on air.

Like I said yesterday - anything people do to support KPC helps in the prevent of child abuse and neglect!

Thanks again, I look forward to the next interview - hopefully one that doesn't follow another tragedy.

Dear Ms. Sexton:

The Park Hill Neighborhood Association wishes to thank you for your story in September 2007 about the harboring of skunks in our neighborhood. Your story, "Colorado Springs Neighbors Battle Over Skunks," was very well crafted and insightful. We are very grateful for your story and expression of our appreciation is genuine, if sorely belated.

The neighborhood association was drawn into this contentious problem early on, and our failed efforts to get various agencies to try to help or take some action have been very frustrating. We can only do so much – such as helping residents direct their problems and complaints to the agency having oversight or jurisdiction over the matter, but it often seems as though a frustrated resident who can't resolve a problem on his own expects the neighborhood association to saddle up a posse and take vigilante measures to fix it for them. It was doubly gratifying that your report of the surprising inaction of the Division of Wildlife and other agencies served to back up what we were already telling the plaintiffs. We really appreciate your factual and unbiased capture of the many sides of the issue. Feedback from people responding to this story on the website showed there are also many opposing views in the general community, not just the immediate neighborhood.

The problem may escalate when warm weather returns, but we feel your excellent story may have given a gentle nudge to the resident who is unintentionally or deliberately feeding and harboring the skunks, perhaps making her aware that the spotlight may be on her if she deliberately exacerbates the problem. Thanks again for the great reporting!

Sincerely,

Carol J. Vogler, Vice President
Park Hill Neighborhood Association

Dear Emily,

I wanted to say a quick thank you for participating in this morning's panel discussion. We all appreciated your time, insight, and advice – especially the good information about how we can partner with media outlets better.

Thanks again for the ways you and KKTV improve our community!

Kind Regards,

Mr. Merritt, thanks for the opportunity to visit you yesterday and discuss the Parents Television Council (PTC). I appreciated hearing our common concerns about unnecessary violence, profanity, and sex on television during times when children are most likely to be watching. I still have some concerns about the upcoming Dexter broadcast and will be emailing you again in a couple of days. Thanks again...

Mr. Nancarrow and Ms. Stone,

The Wescott Fire Department would like to extend our thanks and gratitude for your recent coverage of our five Medal of Valor honorees. As a small department, it is sometimes difficult to get our stories out to the public we serve. Your caring and professionalism was very apparent as we worked with you on January 22nd and in your aired reports. You showed to the public that fire and EMS responders are just like them...ordinary people doing extraordinary things. Your patience throughout the day was much appreciated. If there is anything we can ever assist you with, please do not hesitate to contact us. We look forward to working with you and the whole KKTv news crew in the future.

Sincerely,

Captain Mike Whiting

I love the runners across the bottom of the screen. You have been advertising it for so long...I have been curious about its effectiveness. This morning, the weather was of particular concern...especially for my husband, a Widefield District 3 employee. The runners were helpful for every district in southern Colorado it seemed except for D-3. There are 2 high schools, 3 junior highs and 9 or so elementaries in the district. I realize that the city's attitude is that the area is ghetto and does not matter much...but it's as big a D-2 and bigger than D-8 and D-12. Please, update your "BIG" district runner to include D-3...that would be helpful to quite a few of us! Thank you!
